Consulting and Research Company

About Us

“Paradigma Armenia” CJSC is a tax, accounting, consulting, as well as research company. It was founded in July 2003 by Aharon Chilingaryan as “Aharon Paradigma” and later was renamed as “Paradigma Armenia”. During the years of its operation company has managed to build a young, dynamic team, as well as acquired wide professional experience working with both local and international organizations operating in different fields. Company’s priority is the quality of the work at the same time evaluating the needs of clients and relations with them.

Our Mission

Company's mission is to provide clients and customers professional, consistent and high-quality services following the principles of confidence, independent consultancy and pledge for that is the system approach in the center of which are employees and the components of which are knowledge, experience, sense of own corporative style and search for innovations. Regularly revising requirements of the business environment we search and find new tools raising the effectiveness of the work, which enables provision of high-quality services. The company realizes its mission following the motto "Another frame of Reference".

Our Team

The Company employs carefully selected 15 people with diverse backgrounds but bound by the same problem solving approach to work. The Company has social and ethical commitments expressed in its internal regulations and Company's HR policies are designed in a way to help its experts manage their progress closely, gain the full support of their colleagues and reach their highest potential. This cycle of assessment and meaningful feedback, conducted regularly, allows to ensure that clients work with people who have exactly the right level of skills and experience for their business. In line with this policy the Company encourages requalification of its staff and supports them in their endeavours: at present some employers are taking ACCA, meanwhile other training and development programs are always on the discussion table of top management of the Company.

The work of the team is tailored to meet each client's unique needs. Knowledge of foreign languages (Russian, English and French) is also an important tool that our team has in its arsenal.

Our Advantage

In the course of time we have developed a frame of deep and profound referene which enables us to offer our customers not theoretical but practical and implementable solutions, based on profound researches.
